About Sara

Sara is an enthusiastic Salisbury based violin and viola teacher with 16 years' experience through the Wiltshire Music Service. She has pupils across all age ranges and enjoys teaching individual lessons, small group and whole class lessons (First Access). Sara understands the importance of keeping up to date with new repertoire and teaching ideas so she can encourage and inspire young musicians to enjoy learning the violin or viola. She finds it hugely rewarding to work with a pupil over the years to gain not only exam results but confidence in performing and a love of music. Sara believes that pupils should become a part of a musical ensemble, not only in school but as part of the local community and has been able to share this passion through her work with the Salisbury Area Young Musicians and enjoys introducing pupils to exciting new ensemble repertoire.

In addition to delivering pupil lessons with the Co-operative, Sara is part of the team at the Salisbury Area Young Musicians and conducts the SAYM Intermediate and Junior Strings. With her school ensemble work she conducts the St Edmund's School Orchestra and the Woodlands Primary School String Orchestra, Stringissimo.

Outside of teaching Sara performs regularly in the Salisbury area as part of Salisbury Sinfonia and the Minerva String Quartet. For Sara, music is so much more than playing an instrument; it is social, rewarding and has been shown to really benefit learning across all subject areas.
