About Mark

Mark is a former teacher from the Wiltshire Music Service and has taught brass, recorder, singing, ukulele and drums as well as leading jazz and wind bands for SAYM. He has produced many resources for First access and brass teaching that are used widely both in Wiltshire and beyond (published by Mostyn Music).

Mark is much in demand from schools for first Access work where his material has proved immensely enjoyable and educational for children working with a variety of instruments. His material has enabled many teachers to provide high quality First Access work and has a lasting impact on the children who remember the songs for years.
