About Jenny

Jenny is a fully qualified teacher (degree, PGCE) with over twenty years of teaching experience, both in woodwind teaching from ages 3 to adult and in delivering the secondary music curriculum at Key Stages 3, 4 and 5. She teaches flute, clarinet, saxophone and recorder from beginner to diploma level and has a high retention rate of pupils. Jenny offers Wider Opportunity/First Access classes, culminating in concerts which are held at the pupils' schools. She also regularly directs music ensembles ranging from recorder groups to wind bands and mixed instrumental ensembles both in schools and for the Salisbury Area Young Musicians.

Jenny spent some years performing abroad and lecturing on world music performance. She has performed regularly as a soloist in the UK, and particularly enjoys taking part as a woodwind specialist in shows local to Wiltshire and Kent.
